All leaks are fixed

Director's Report

Katie will return April 18.

People have started coming back since we returned seating in-person. There aren't huge crowds. Patrons are still respectful of the mask policy.

Belen Larios was hired to replace our former morning custodian and is doing great work.

Since our last meeting, there were two leaks in the library ceiling. Roofing company believes this was the result of ice in the drain lines and came for repairs. Damage to paint on the wall, carpet was stained and ceiling tiles in the meeting room.

We held in-person activities for New Jersey Maker's Day on Saturday, March 28. Allison and I hosted the children's activities. Stephanie also held an in-person event for adults.

Rachel will be attending a supervisor training course held by the New Jersey State Library for continuing education.

Director's request

Many BCCLS libraries have dropped their mask policy. I am not requesting that we end ours, but I would like to know how the board's opinion because patrons are increasingly asking about it.

Table till next meeting. Continue masking.
